

U.S. OFFENSIVE AGAINST SOLOMONS RAGES INTO FOURTH DAY

Reds Take Stand Before Defenses of Maikop Oil Fields

Initiative Said To Remain in Hands Of American Fleet

By C. YATES McDANIEL
General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, Aug. 10. (AP)—The United States' first powerful offensive of the war flamed into its fourth day today by sea, air and possibly land against savagely resisting Japanese in the Solomon Islands with supporting assaults by Allied airmen on enemy positions in New Guinea and the Bismarck archipelago.

Latest word on the continuing action in the Solomons, while scant, indicated the initiative remained in the hands of the American fleet and other Allied forces which joined the battle Friday.

RAF BLASTS OBJECTIVES IN GERMANY

Docks at Le Havre, France, and Air Fields in Belgium and The Netherlands Also Bombed

SIX PLANES MISSING

London, Aug. 10.—(P)—A strong force of British bombers returning to the offensive against Germany after two nights of bad weather, attacked the railway and industrial center of Osnabrueck and other objectives in northwest Germany last night, the air ministry announced today.

Docks at Le Havre, France, and air fields in Belgium and the Netherlands also were bombed.

Six bombers were missing from the night's operations and one fighter from offensive patrol yesterday, the air ministry said.

British bombers attacked western Germany during the night with high explosive and incendiary bombs, DNB said today.

"Several fires were caused in residential quarters of a large Westphalian town," the news agency said. It reported four British planes were shot down.

In scattered light attacks by the German air force on Britain during the night, three invading bombers were reported shot down.

Osnabrueck is a center of great railroad yards through which virtually all the traffic from the Rhineland and Ruhr is shunted. It has been mentioned in RAF communiqués 29 times previously, but was last mentioned on the night of June 19.

TEXAS SOLDIER BEING TRIED FOR ASSAULT

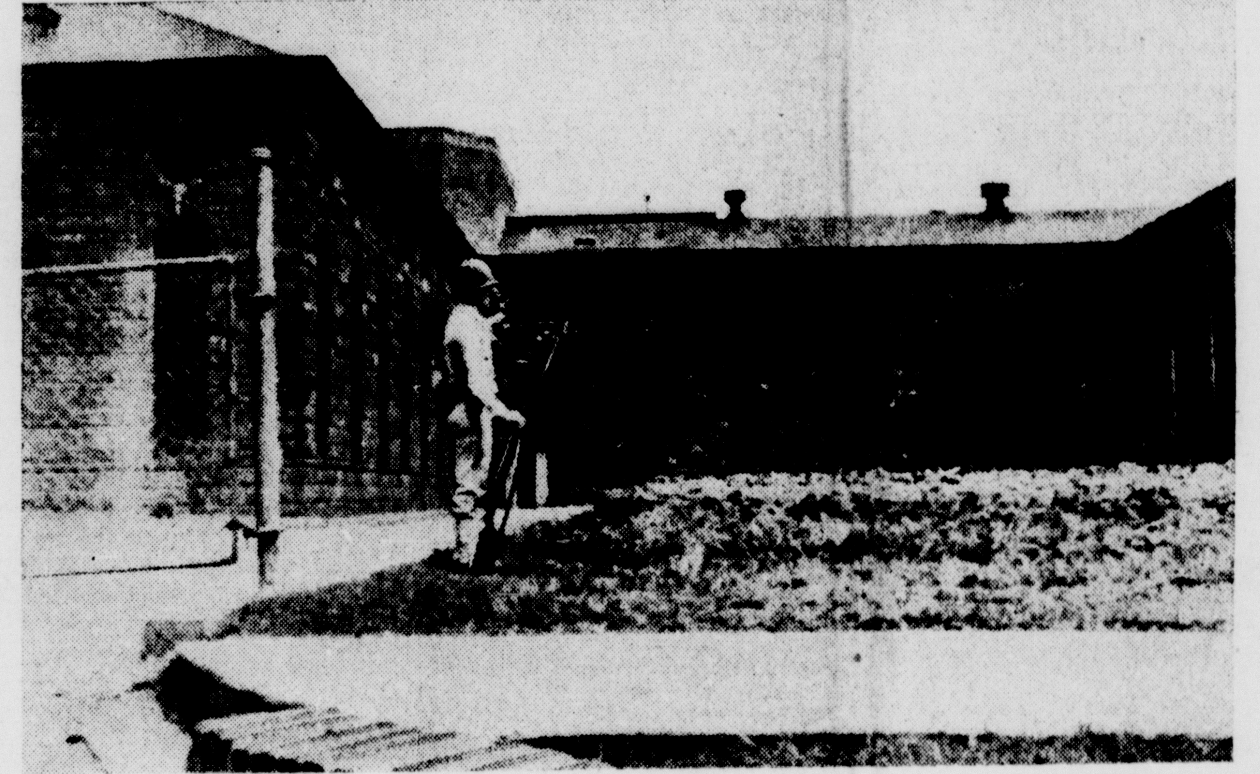

Somewhere in Britain, Aug. 10.—(P)—Private Travis P. Hammond, 5, of Texas, the first American soldier of the second A. E. F. to be tried by general court martial in Britain, pleaded innocent today to a charge of assaulting a 16-year old English girl.

If convicted he is liable to a death sentence or life imprisonment as a violator of the 92d article of war under which it is charged that Hammond "forcibly and feloniously against her will have carnal knowledge" of the girl on July 17.

Pre-War Foreign Policy Issue in New York State Primary

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 10.—(P)—Pre-war foreign policy is an issue in New York's primary election tomorrow, in which voters nominate 43 congressmen and choose party convention delegates who will name candidates for a nationally spotlighted governorship race. The pre-Pearl Harbor isolationist issue has been emphasized in p. Hamilton Fish's fight for publican renomination in President Roosevelt's home district. Fish's opponents—Augustus W. S. Bennett, Newburgh attorney; State senator Emerson D. Fitch, Fitchburg college professor, and Edward J. Bowen, of Poughkeepsie—based their campaign on the isolationist views they say he expressed before the war.

Group Finds Leniency For Southeastern War Effort Is Saboteurs Is Part of State Still Lagging Justifiable Is Inundated

Congressional Committee Reports on Results of Investigation

FAILURES ARE RECITED

Washington, Aug. 10.—(P)—The government was "perfectly justified" in showing leniency to two of the convicted eight German saboteurs by sending them to prison because "they helped considerably" in preparing the case against the six who were electrocuted, Attorney General Biddle said yesterday.

This strategy of sparing the lives of the men who turned tale bearers to disclose activities of their confederates in international conspiracy who came by submarine to launch a two-year sabotage campaign here, was seen as a government bid for aid from any member of other enemy bands.

Ten people have been jailed in New York and Chicago on charges of having aided the saboteurs.

There was no word on the disposition of the bodies of the six men who were executed Saturday.

The British radio broadcast the news of the execution of Heinrich Harn Henck, Richard Quinn, Edward John Kerz, Herbert Hans Haupt, Werner Thiel and Hermann Otto Neubauer to the Nazi-dominated continent in several languages Saturday night.

Those spared by presidential commutation were George John Dasch, sentenced to 30 years, and Ernest Peter Burger, to serve the remainder of his life in prison.

OUTSTANDING DESERT SOLDIER LOSES LIFE

London, Aug. 10.—(P)—The Daily Telegraph said today it had learned that Lieut.-Gen. William Henry Ewart Gott, 45, one of Britain's outstanding desert soldiers, was killed in action in the recent Libyan fighting.

Known affectionately to his troops as "Strafer," Gott was praised in the house of commons by Prime Minister Churchill last June in recognition of his valor in combating Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's advance and the war office said, "He probably knows more about the desert than any other senior British officer."

Yank Fliers Busy In China

Chungking, Aug. 10.—(P)—American sky dragons caught the Japanese base at Haiphong in puppetized French Indo-China by complete surprise Sunday and in a concentrated bombing scored a direct hit on a 4,000-ton steamer and started a large oil fire on the docks, Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell said in a communique today.

"All bombs landed in the target area," communique No. 23 said. "After the bombers released their bombs, escorting pursuit planes bombed and machinegunned the dock area. The complete lack of hostile opposition indicates the enemy was taken at complete surprise."

No U. S. losses were suffered. It was the first raid on Haiphong by raiders based in China.

Haiphong has been used by the Japanese as a port of entry into the French colony since September, 1940, when Vichy made its first accord with Tokyo. It is located in the north, on the Gulf of Tonkin.

DISORDERS IN BOMBAY ARE INCREASING

All-India Congress Party's Campaign of Mass Civil Disobedience Gaining Momentum

23 SENT TO HOSPITALS

Bombay, Aug. 10.—(P)—Soldiers and police, fighting to control wide-spread rioting on the second day of Mohandas K. Gandhi's campaign to end the British rule in India, have fired upon crowds in Bombay ten times yesterday and today as strikes and disturbances spread throughout the country.

Bloodshed ushered in Gandhi's "non-violent" civil disobedience campaign yesterday when the police were forced to fire six times.

A Bombay government communique tonight said casualties on Sunday totaled eight killed and 159 wounded, but said it had no tally of today's casualties in clashes in which demonstrators stoned trains and automobiles, and burned government grain shops.

Strikes closed some factories and schools. Twenty-three were sent to the hospital with bullet wounds suffered when police fired twice into groups in the Dadar district of Bombay. In Purna police fired on a crowd, mostly of students, near Purnambhau College, and two were removed to a hospital. Schools and colleges there were closed. Goondas, the Hindu name for hoodlums, threw bottles through windows.

The work stoppages in some Bombay mills were in response to Mohandas K. Gandhi's "do or die" call for a "complete deadlock" by strikes and all other non-violent means.

As the campaign entered its second day amid shootings, showers of bottles and shouts of demonstrators, there were portents of even greater trouble ahead.

Bands of Hindus stoned some Moslem shops in the "trouble area" of south central Bombay. Police have the "eatest fear of repetition of the communal Moslem-Hindu riots which have followed previous civil disobedience campaigns. These riots were the bloodiest and the most difficult to suppress."

Throughout the city troops were stationed in groups ranging from a dozen soldiers to a full platoon.

TRAFFIC IS PARALYZED

Coatesville, Aug. 10.—(P)—Swirling flood waters receded from the farm lands and industrial regions of southeastern Pennsylvania today after a flash flood inundated homes and steel mills and paralyzed traffic in a four-county area.

Property damage was estimated in the millions.

One man died as creeks spread over their banks in Chester, Bucks, Montgomery and Lancaster counties. George Harple, 32, a chauffeur, made a wager with friends that he could wade over a flooded bridge at Downingtown. He was swept away.

The flood, caused by heavy rains, damaged the plants of the Lukens and Bethlehem Steel Companies, delayed and forced rerouting of many Pennsylvania and Reading railroad trains and marooned scores of automobiles and trucks along Lincoln highway.

Steel workers swam to safety from the Lukens plant. Residents said historic Brandywine creek rose 25 feet above normal.

Four hundred of the five hundred residents of Paperville, two miles south of here, were driven from partly submerged homes.

An abandoned dam broke at Mortonville, two miles further down Brandywine creek, and many more homes were flooded.

The Schuylkill river was reported three feet above flood stage at Norristown.

Crop damage alone in Bucks county was estimated by farm agencies at $500,000.

Twelve Ships Reported Sunk During Week

By the Associated Press
With the sinkings of 12 more Allied and neutral merchant ships, officially reported last week, the Associated Press tabulation of such wartime ship losses in the western Atlantic area stood today at 419.

In the newly-disclosed enemy submarine attacks, a total of 62 seamen and passengers were killed, 32 others were missing and more than 740 rescued by United Nations' craft and landed safely at Caribbean and United States ports.

Sinkings announced since Aug. 2 included six U. S. merchantmen, two Norwegian, one British, one Russian, one Panamanian and one Uruguayan.

Five of these went down off the U. S. east coast, making the total war losses in those waters 171; four in the Gulf of Mexico brought that figure to 41, two in the Caribbean off South America boosted that figure to 27. No new sinkings were reported off Canada, leaving that total at 41.

Long Hunger Strike Ends

Baltimore, Aug. 10.—(P)—Thirty-six year old Corbett Bishop, conscientious objector who staged a 45-day hunger strike, today ended his long fast, taking nourishment at St. Agnes hospital.

Bishop, now receiving small amounts of glucose, is "a bit dehydrated and underweight, but perfectly alert mentally," Dr. Rossberg added.

Arthur Gable, director of the Avalon Camp for conscientious objectors near Elkridge, Md., said Bishop consented last night to be hospitalized. Weakened, he still was able to walk to a car and into the hospital.

So far as he knew, Gable added, Bishop took nothing but water since June 26.

American Forces In Britain Increasing

London, Aug. 10.—(P)—Additional contingents of United States troops have been arriving in Britain for some time past to strengthen the forces expected here to swing one day into action in Europe.

The dates of arrivals always are kept secret for some time in the interests of security, but it is permitted to state without disclosing when they got here that the forces gathering in Britain constantly are growing.

Amendment to Revenue Bill Turned Down

Eight Community Property States Will Not Be Required to Pay Levies

HEARINGS NEAR END

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—(P)—The senate finance committee rejected today a proposed amendment to the new revenue bill which would have required the payment of taxes by the recipient on all earned income in the eight community property states.

The action came on a vote of 11 to 4.

"Then that means the community property states can rest at ease for the least another year," a newsman asked Chairman George (D-Ga.)

"That means they can rest at ease," responded George.

He estimated that inclusion of the provision would have added approximately $85,000,000 in new revenue, based upon the income tax rates set by the house.

Score Plants Recipients Of New Awards

Washington, Aug. 10.—(P)—Twenty major American war plants receive new army-navy production awards today for following that battle needs demanded "an increasing flow" of weapons and materials.

"The united efforts of our army and navy striking at the enemy on every continent and every ocean, and of our people at home working without interruption to turn out the weapons of war," Mr. Roosevelt said yesterday, "cannot fail to produce the victory which will again establish the tradition of free men throughout the world."

In a message read over a special broadcast, the president said "great progress" had been made on the production front, but added that "in terms of what will be required to defeat our enemies, we have only just begun to get into our stride."

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, told the nation of a "crucial need for more raw materials" and warned that victory would demand "undreamed-of sacrifices and privations." Winning the war will be "a long and bloody task," he said.

Philip Murray, president of the CIO, and William Green, head of the AFL, pledged the continued cooperation of American labor to speed production.

TWO INDUCTEES KILLED

Evans City, Aug. 10.—(P)—Two army inductees from Ohio were killed today when their automobile struck a tree in this Butler county town. They were identified as John Victor Oriskany, 25, New Middleton R. D. 1, and James Barton Elder, 23, Struthers.

Explosions Roaring Over Broad Area Indicate Russians Carrying Out Scorched Earth Policy

DRIVE EXTENDING EAST

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Driven back by the relentless hard thrusts of German motorized troops and Alpinsts, Red army defenses before the oil fields of Maikop and in spurs of the Caucasian foothills appeared to be cracking today.

Front line dispatches telling of tremendous explosions roaring over a broad area seemed to indicate the Russians were carrying out with ruthless abandon the scorched earth policy in the first oil regions the Germans have been able to penetrate in their Caucasian thrust.

(The Germans, suddenly extending their drive eastward along the Baku railway toward the Caspian, claimed the capture of Pyatigorsk, 100 miles southeast of Armavir and midway between the Black Sea and Caspian. They already had claimed to have reached the Caucasian slopes on a 250-mile front and captured Maikop and Krasnodar in the northwest Caucasus.)

On the Stalingrad front the German high command said that the Russians are making desperate resistance, but that "their counter-attacks failed after bitter fighting."

"In the great Don elbow a strong enemy army west of Kalach has been encircled," it added. "Repeated enemy attacks to break out have been unsuccessful."

(Troop and supply laden ships were reported bombed by the German air force on the north Caucasian coast and a 4,000-ton merchant ship was reported sunk in the harbor of Tuapse.)

In large-scale tank battles in Kotelnikovsky area of the Don elbow, southwest of Stalingrad, the Soviet machines appeared to be as strong (Turn to Page Seven)

Girl Slayer Dies In Chair

Bellefonte, Aug. 10.—(P)—William Wilson, 22-year-old Allegheny county negro, paid with his life today for the slaying of Rose Haber in a purse-snatching that netted only $3.

Quietly, unsupported, he walked to the electric chair in nearby Rockview penitentiary and was seated at 12:31 a. m. The switch was thrown at 12:32, and at 12:34 he was pronounced dead.

His body was not claimed and will be buried in the prison cemetery.

Wilson had no visitors on Sunday and made no special requests. He spent most of the day sleeping and neither received nor sent any letters. For his last meal he ate the regular prison fare and some of his last hours were devoted to reading the Bible.

He was sentenced to death by three judges in criminal court after he pleaded guilty to a charge of murder. He was arrested last March after a nurse was accosted on a lonely Pittsburgh street.

Police Inspector Albert J. Jones said Wilson admitted attacks on several women, including Rose Haber, who was beaten to death with a brick after she alighted from a trolley in a Pittsburgh street on July 22, 1941.

ALTOONA MAN IS HELD ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Altoona, Aug. 10.—(P)—District Attorney Chester E. Wray said today he would file a murder charge against Andrew Marion Hileman, 64-year-old carpenter held in the fatal shooting of Lawrence E. Hencher, 42.

Hencher died in Altoona hospital yesterday five hours after police found him wounded on the porch of a house in nearby Logan township. The victim said he crawled to the porch after being shot.

Wray said Hileman's wife, held as a material witness, related that Hileman fired three shots at her and Hencher with a shotgun. Mrs. Hileman escaped injury.

American Troops Taking Over Some of England's Defenses

With the U. S. Army Ground Forces in England, Aug. 10.—(P)—American troops have taken over some of England's defense areas and are ready to help the British meet a German invasion, but they are not being trained "to sit on the defensive."

Maj. Gen. M. W. Clark, commander of U. S. ground forces in Britain, said in his first press conference yesterday that "United States troops are coming 'by the thousand upon thousand' and added that 'the sooner a second front could be opened the better.'"

The 46-year-old general said that American troops were ready to invade the continent at once if necessary, although they "could profitably use six months more training."

"In fact," General Clark said, "our men are far better trained than were American troops which reached France in the same period during the last war."

"There is only one way to get real experience and that is in battle," Clark said.

Veterans of Foreign Wars To Aid In Aviation Cadet Drive

Young men between 18 and 26 who want to be Aviation Cadets in the U. S. Army Air Corps now may file their applications through the Veterans of Foreign Wars post in Warren. It was announced today. This includes any young men in Warren county.

Post Commander Leo Schuler announced today that his organization will help prospective Aviation Cadets pass the army air physical and mental tests. Special examinations will be given by the V. F. W. at the 631st VFW Engineers headquarters, 235 Pennsylvania avenue, west.

Lt. Gen. Henry Arnold, chief of Army Air Forces, has assigned V. F. W. posts throughout the country the job of securing qualified Aviation Cadets.

These young aviation candidates will be trained as pilots, bombardiers, navigators and for ground crew technical posts in the army air corps. Aviation Cadets receive $75 a month base pay while training and are eligible for army commissions upon graduation.

The army air corps and the V. F. W. also are signing up students as aviation cadets and permitting them to finish their schooling.

In order to help prospective Aviation Cadets pass the army entrance examinations, the local V. F. W. post is giving applicants a special medical examination. This enables candidates to correct minor physical defects which might bar them from passing in the air corps test.

The local V. F. W. post also is giving each applicant a short mental examination, similar to the required army "screening" test.

The V. F. W. mental examination determines in which subject the applicant needs "refreshing," so he may pass the army test. Failure to pass the army test bars an applicant for 90 days, so the local V. F. W. post has arranged to give candidates instruction in subjects in which they are weak.

Local V. F. W. committeemen in charge of this Aviation Cadet program comprise the staff officers of the 631st VFW Engineers.

Young men 18 to 26 wishing to become Aviation Cadets may get further information from the local V. F. W. post at their regional headquarters at 235 Pennsylvania avenue, west.

Second Group Of Selectees In Training

For the second time in as many days, a large crowd was on hand at the Pennsylvania Railroad station Saturday morning when nearly forty men from Warren county in the district of Local Board No. 2, left for the start of training with the U. S. armed forces.

Once more the Struthers-Wells band was on hand to help in giving the departing group a rousing send-off and their stirring music added much to the occasion.

As was the case with the group from Local Board No. 1 on Friday, the members of the citizens' committee presented each inductee with a carton of cigarettes and a card entitling him to a three-months subscription to the Times-Mirror.

GOOD FORTUNE

Lloyd Maze, one of the selectees who left with Friday's contingent, is happier today because of rare good luck and the kindness and resourcefulness of Howard Potts and a little girl of Clarendon, Md., who had received as a farewell gift a valuable wrist watch. Lost out of the train window at Clarendon while waving a greeting to a friend. Unable himself to search for the watch, he told Potts of the approximate location where the loss occurred. Potts, accompanied by the little girl, found the watch and wired ahead that the watch had been found in good running order. And so, in New Cumberland today, one Warren county boy is happier because of the kindness of folks back home.

In the contingent that left on Saturday was one selectee whose name was inadvertently omitted from the previous lists. He is John Orinko, of Sheffield. Members of the two local selective service boards are now making preparations to send another group of men to the Erie reception center for final physical examinations. These groups will go to Erie late this month and will start their army training early in September.

According to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg on Saturday, registrants previously rejected for military service on grounds of illiteracy may be called up under new Selective Service regulations for reclassification and possible immediate induction.

Col. B. F. Evans, acting state director, is issuing the new order to local boards, also advising that known illiterates are eligible for I-A classification.

Sugar Grove Township Man Shoots Self

The body of Clifford Ottie Delp, 37, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Delp, who reside on Brown Hill in Sugar Grove township, was found in an upstairs room of the home about eleven o'clock Sunday morning with the top of his head blown away and a single-barreled 12-gauge shot gun by the side. Coroner Ed Lowrey and Sheriff William Stuart, who investigated, decided the man had committed suicide because of ill health.

The officials were informed that Mr. Delp had complained of a severe pain in the head for several months, although he worked regularly in a Corry factory. He had been about as usual Sunday morning with nothing in his actions indicating that he intended doing anything rash. At the time of the shooting neither his mother or father were in the house.

Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers, Paul and Arlo, at home, and a sister, Mrs. Cornelius Enright, of Titusville. Removal was made to the Schoonover funeral home in Sugar Grove where services will be held Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock conducted by Rev. Harry Reed, of the Wesleyan Methodist church on Brown Hill. Interment will be in the Blue Ridge cemetery at Clarion.

Trinity Memorial Church Scene of Ceremony

Uniting Mary Jamieson-David Beaty, 3rd

White gladioli were used in beautiful decoration of Trinity Memorial Episcopal church Saturday afternoon for the four o'clock wedding of Miss Mary Botchford Jamieson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis C. Jamieson, Conewango avenue extension, and David W. Beaty, III, of Warren and Miami, Fla., son of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Beaty, 312 Conewango avenue.

Rev. E. Pinkney Wroth, rector, performed the ceremony and Miss Jean Robertson, church organist, played a brief recital which included the Prelude to "Lohengrin" by Wagner, "Ave Maris Stella" by Grieg and several of her own compositions.

The bride's frock of white faille was fashioned with bouffant tulle skirt and train, her fingertip veil was of tulle and her flower head-dress was of white bouvardia.

In the bridal party were her two sisters, Mrs. Robert Jeffers Lay, of Forest Hills, Long Island, and Mrs. David Knapp, of New York City, together with Miss Sally Horan, of New York, and Miss Jessie Elizabeth McFayden, of Scotland.

Their white frocks were on lines similar to that of the bride, with full tulle skirts. They carried old-fashioned bouquets of red roses, with the same flowers repeated in bands which held in place their fitted net caps.

John L. Blair, Jr., was Mr. Beaty's best man and the following were ushers: William Moore and Lewis C. Jamieson, Jr., Warren; Frederick and David Dalzell, Moundsville, W. Va.; and William C. M. Butler, of Conyngham, Pa.

Mixed summer flowers, with the bridal white predominating, were used in decorations at "Sunny-brae", the Jamieson home, where a reception was held at 4:30 p. m. for 75 relatives and out of town guests.

Among the guests were Mrs. Charles Brown, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Robert McClave, Allentown; Mr. and Mrs. David Knapp, New York City; Mrs. Robert Jeffers Lay, Forest Hills, Long Island; Mrs. Charles P. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Crary Myers, Elmira, N. Y.; Philip Myers, Birmingham, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Botchford, Hammondsport, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Dalzell, William F. Dalzell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. David B. Dalzell, Moundsville, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. William Cullen Morris Butler, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. William C. M. Butler, Jr., Conyngham; Miss Louise Butler, Hazleton; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stadler, Urbana, O.; Mr. M. J. Beaty, Lakewood, N. Y.; George Carey, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Rush and Margaret Ann Rush, Oil City; Mr. and Mrs. George Metcalf, Erie; Mrs. George W. Olmsted and Mrs. Lyman Wakefield, Jr., Ludlow.

To travel to her new home in Coral Gables, Fla., where they reside at 1122 Marianna street after September 1, the bride chose a suit of beige, girdling with forest green accessories.

Mrs. Beaty was graduated this spring from St. Margaret's School in Waterbury, Conn. Mr. Beaty, who was graduated from Loomis School and attended University of Virginia and the Adirondack-Florida School, is an army instructor at the Riddle School of Aviation.

WHAT DOES A PRESCRIPTION MEAN TO YOU?

When you go to your doctor, or he makes a call to your home, you are anxious to hear his advice. You wish to take full advantage of his many years' training in college, medical school, hospitals, research and practice as applied to your needs. You have confidence in his knowledge and diagnosis of your special case, or you would not call on him. But -- do you follow his prescriptions? Do you carry out his instructions? He has interpreted your case in terms of specific recommendations, and the only way he can help you is to have your full co-operation.

A prescription, in the ordinary sense, is a slip of paper, intelligible only to a registered pharmacist, who has also spent many years fitting himself to follow implicitly the instructions of the physician. However, a prescription may be either written or verbal instructions, on diet or other health habits.

Whatever the physician prescribes, it can only benefit you to the extent that you carry out instructions. Don't blame the doctor, if the medicine stays in the bottle or box, or you half-heartedly follow directions on diet, rest, exercise or dosage. Don't mix up his prescriptions with the advice of neighbors, then blame the doctor if results are not satisfactory.

JULIANO-STATHAM MARRIAGE LEARNED

Word has been received here of the marriage of Anthony F. Juliano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Juliano, of Warren, and Donna Jeanne Statham, daughter of Mrs. Daisy Statham, of Belpre, O., on July 31 in St. Louis, Mo. Father Stitz performed the ceremony in the old Cathedral rectory in that city and the couple were unattended.

Mrs. Juliano is a descendant of prominent and pioneer families of southeastern Ohio, was graduated from the nurses' training school of the Camden-Clarke Memorial Hospital two years ago, is a member of the junior department of the Parkersburg Woman's Club and of the West Virginia State Nurses' Association.

Mr. Juliano has been located in Parkersburg for the past year and a half as welding instructor in the trade and industrial division, vocational education of Central Junior-Senior High School. He is a member of the West Virginia Vocational Association and the American Vocational Association. He and his bride will be at home after this week at 1233 22nd street, Parkersburg.

TONIGHT'S BRIDE HONORED AT PARTIES

Evelyn Johnson, who is to become the bride of Willis Fehman this evening, has been honored guest at several lovely shower parties within the past week. Mrs. Arthur Fehman, mother of Mr. Fehman, entertained at her home, Main street, on Friday evening and a shower was given Saturday evening by the Misses Betty Clendenning and Joan Nicholson at the former's home in North Warren.

Earlier last week, she was complimented with a linen shower given by the Misses Madelyn Burgeson and Phyllis DeVore at the home of Mrs. Samuel Lannen. Prizes for games were awarded to Mrs. George Johnson, Lorraine Johnson and Maxine Uplinger. Many useful gifts for the bride-elect and refreshments were served from an attractive table to the following: Mrs. George Johnson, Mrs. Gladys DeVore, Joyce Mead, Evelyn Johnson, Mrs. Betty Lannen, Lorraine Johnson, Maxine Uplinger, Helen Thompson, Betty Lou Clendenning and the honored guest.

COCHRANTON RITES OF INTEREST HERE

Word has been received here from Cochranton, that Grace Rosadell Chitester, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Chitester, formerly of Sheffield, became the bride of Elvin J. Galmish, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Galmish, also of Cochranton, on August 5 in the Chitester home. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father and her brother, E. Wayne Chitester, gave her in marriage. A sister, Miss Mary Chitester played the wedding music and another sister, Mrs. Donald Fowler, was matron of honor. Earl Galmish was his brother's best man.

Mrs. Galmish is a graduate of the Clarion State Teachers' College and will teach in the Clarion-Limestone High School this winter. Mr. Galmish, graduate of Cochranton High School, was inducted into the United States Air Corps in July.

Dorothy Wilkins Is Wed Friday Evening To Bruce E. Geddes

Before an altar of palms and white gladioli, Miss Dorothy Wilkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wilkins, 105 Lookout street, became the bride of Bruce E. Geddes, son of Mrs. Herbert Geddes, of Kinzua, on Friday evening.

The ceremony was performed in the Wilkins home at seven o'clock by Rev. Bert Edquist, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride wore an attractively styled street dress of beige lace with beige accessories and a shoulder corsage of orchids. She was attended by Miss Elaine Koebley, who wore a pale green dress with brown and white accessories and a shoulder corsage of Tails-nails.

Kenneth W. Smith, of Bradford, fraternity brother of Mr. Geddes, was best man.

The bride's mother wore an ensemble of navy and Mrs. Geddes wore black lace, each having a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

At the reception immediately following the ceremony, about 100 guests were received. Appointments were carried out in white, with a three-tier wedding cake decorated with a miniature bridal couple.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Wilkins, Springfield, N. Y.; Mrs. Telling, Cleveland, O.; Marian Bucklin, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Chelstrom, Jamestown, N. Y.; Mrs. A. G. Ohmer and Marjorie Ohmer, Erie; Mrs. Budick, Bradford; Mr. and Mrs. Sherman and daughter, Allegany, N. Y.

For a wedding trip to Canada and western points, Mrs. Geddes chose a coral sports suit and beige accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Warren High School and is employed by the Bell Telephone Company. Mr. Geddes attended Pennsylvania State College and is a member of Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity.

The bride-elect was honored by her mother with an afternoon party at the Wilkins home; a miscellaneous shower by several friends at the home of Mrs. John Dietrich; a dinner given by Miss Beatrice Koebley; and a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Mary Dunham.

HOME FIRES

Part of Pennsylvania, and all of sixteen states, plus the District of Columbia—which have been experimenting with gasoline rationing—are looking forward to a cold winter.

Just as it has been found impossible to supply their motorists with automobile fuel, because of transportation difficulties, so it is going to be impossible to provide sufficient fuel for their oil burners.

There is no "wolf, wolf" in the warnings that are being broadcast. If there were, the nation's largest petroleum company would not have substituted coal equipment in place of oil burning.

Unfortunately, changes have been coming thick and fast, interspersed with just enough false alarms so that the eastern public is a bit apathetic. There is a general and dangerous tendency for the home owner to let the matter of next winter's fuel drift, in hope that, rather than see the public suffer, government will find some rabbit to pull out of the hat.

During January and February, in the eastern area, ordinarily 1,130,000 barrels a day of fuel oil are burned. The best that is forecast for the coming winter is 791,000 barrels a day. Obviously this leaves a shortage of about 340,000 barrels a day, or approximately one-third of the normal usage.

But that is not a true measure of the seriousness of the situation so far as householders are concerned.

Much fuel oil is used industrially. So the reduction to householders may exceed one-third of what they have been using.

This has been reiterated time after time, and still householders neglect to do anything in preparation.

Some 400,000 of them have furnaces originally built for coal but converted to oil. About all these would need to do is have the oil burners removed and grates installed.

The government is going out of its way to permit the manufacture of grates for this purpose, from metal needed elsewhere. The Federal Reserve Board has made an exception liberalizing credit restrictions, to help householders finance the conversion from oil to coal and also to cover the cost of weather-stripping, insulation and other fuel-saving devices.

That, probably, is about all the government can do. Uncle Sam can hardly be expected to provide the conversion free, or to send his workmen to do the job.

SAVE TIN CANS

The tin can salvage program, originally confined to 36 metropolitan areas, is being extended to another 104 cities because the necessary detinning plant capacity now is available.

The program has received excellent support from the communities already covered. Their residents have realized that, in addition to the valuable tin recovered in the process, "tin" cans produce thousands of tons of scrap steel to boost the output of our overburdened steel plants.

During the current six calendar months the Salvage Division needs 17,000,000 tons of scrap iron and steel. Much of this will come from the larger sources. But every householder in the 140 can salvage areas can contribute toward victory if he will save all tin cans, remove wrappings, cut off heads and bottoms, flatten them out, and turn them over to whatever collection agency his community may provide.

The week-end developed three major crises, which, although in widely separated theatres, seem to be closely related: (1) the American offensive against the Japanese in the Solomon and Aleutian islands, (2) the further German gain in the Maikop oil zone of the northern Caucasus, and (3) the inauguration of the Indian Nationalist revolt against British rule.

The passing of Joseph E. Moorhead, at Washington, D. C., Sunday is a severe loss to the entire Pennsylvania oil industry.

In spite of the unfavorable weather, picnic spots in the area were well populated Saturday and Sunday.

Householders using oil for fuel better convert to some other burners or start laying in red flannels.

Hospital Service Association Has Many Cases Here

Some indication of the extent to which the non-profit group hospitalization plan in operation in Warren county is serving residents may be had from the announcement by the Hospital Service Association that 1212 hospital cases have been paid in Warren county by the hospital-sponsored project. These cases represent a total of 7,693 days of hospital care. There has been a much heavier demand for hospital treatment in recent months, it is pointed out. This has resulted from several reasons, one of the principal being increased economic activity. As a result of the increase in employment many persons who are now back at work are having members of their families hospitalized for conditions which had been neglected in the past.

22 Dragon Grid Hopefuls to Get Equipment Next Week

Lettermen Among Candidates; To Start Workouts On Aug. 25

One hundred and twenty-two football candidates will be examined at a time to be set later by the school physician, and issued equipment on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week, it was announced today by Warren High School Football Coach and Athletics Director J. B. Leidig.

Among the squad of 122 hopefuls will be five lettermen returning from last year's gridiron eleven. Four of them—Dick Kifer, Albert Salermo, Mike Bleech and Lloyd Dickerson—are all backfield men with a season's experience on the varsity behind all of them, while Leroy Fredericks, brother to Walt, who was making grid history in a Dragon suit in 1939, is the only line veteran back this year.

Fifty-six boys, most of whom were among the first half of the squad in rating of ability last season, will draw equipment on the evening of August 19 at seven o'clock, and the remaining 66 youths will receive their uniforms the following evening, August 20, at the same time in the evening.

The squad will begin practice Tuesday, August 25, on Beatty field, more details about the initial drill to be announced at a later date. The first game is on tap for Saturday, September 5, against the Eagles at Youngsville. The first home game will be Labor Day, September 7, against Erie Academy.

Following are the boys who will draw equipment August 19: Gusti Arrigo, Donald Backstrom, Richard Bathurst, Craig Bennett, Fred Beyer, Mike Bleech, William Brown, Murray Cameron, Elmer Christensen, Jack Conroy, Lawrence Daley, Jack D'Angelo, Dominick DeMarco, Lloyd Dickerson, Paul Dickerson, Paul Eaton, Merle Fox, Leroy Fredericks, Robert Fredericks, Joe Frontera, Robert Hamilton, William Hartnett, John Hickey, Charles Hubbs, John Imperial, Robert W. 9-Year-Old Doctor Wins Keet Crown

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 10.—(P)—A steady nerves he acquired in performing delicate surgery on a 50-year-old retired doctor, a month-old of the skeet world were years.

Leroy W. Childs, former Atlanta, Ga., surgeon, shot 250 eight targets—the final 50 yesterday—to win the coveted 12-gauge title in the 8th National Championships.

The slightly-built southerner, now lives at Lake Kerr, Fla., he Ocala National Forest, took keet in 1937 after doctors had sed him to abandon other strenuous sports.

He attributes the winning of his national title over a field of marksmen, some youngsters his age, to "the concentration I learned in the operating."

Seven previous national tournaments, only three other gunners fired a perfect 250 x 250.

The less remarkable was his feat in shattering 97 of 100 in winning the women's 20-gauge title. She has been shooting only two years.

BANK SHOTS

BY FLOYD PASSINGER, Sports Editor

Another week, and another busy card of baseball, one of the last for the 1942 season, which is quickly drawing to a close, though it looks like the last hour of a Dollar Day sale the way it's bowing out.

In just two weeks football will be taking the headlines as the Dragons start workouts and a week later will be showing their wares in the opening grid struggles of the fall season in this area.

But right now it's baseball, and the spotlight is certainly on it. Tonight and tomorrow evening the Hospital and Forge diamond dusters battle in the Sunset League title series and excitement is overflowing as a result of the 11-10 clash the two contenders produced last week.

If needed, a fourth game is scheduled for Thursday evening and the fifth game will be on the line a week from tonight if the series runs the limit.

Over the coming weekend the Forge has two important Tri-County League clashes, a second duel with Meadville's Pioneers on Friday evening at Meadville and a third meeting with the Corry Merchants Sunday at Wilder Field.

Another baseball game will be on deck at the State Hospital, the regular Saturday afternoon encounter, opponent to be named, and it may be the Eagles. The Eagles, in the last minute, were to have played there this past Saturday, but inclement weather forced cancellation.

That menu should fatten area baseball fans if they take in each encounter as it comes along.

Looking at the Sunset League batting statistics, oddities which you may have overlooked include Ray Bennett's ten hits for Storcham without scoring a single run; also the fact that Irvine had nary a player with an average of less than .201.

That was the lowest, turned in by Eddie Burns, the league's hard-luck kid at the plate.

He hit the ball continuously, but almost always, there was an enemy fielder standing right where he hit it.

Forge followers are hoping that Pinsky Caffery, now in the navy, will get his scheduled leave in time to help his former mates in the Tri-County League playoff, should they make the grade, and it seems certain they will.

Bob Baker is turning into the area's handy man as a pitcher.

He spent the Sunset League season tossing for the Eagles, went to Meadville to help out the Forge Friday night, and now will take part in the Sunset League series, doing his best for the State Hospital.

Anyone else need a trusty righthander for a game or so?

When the boxing commission suspends anyone because of his eye-sight, it usually ends up with the boxer's head in the hospital, and the boxer's head in the necks of the solons.

But did you ever think how many lives the ring of fathers have completely ruined themselves in the ring? The money a fighter can make in a couple of fights which make him completely blind is peanuts compared to the life he can enjoy if care and caution are practiced.

Therefore, our hat is off to Commission Chairman Leon Rains, who saved an eye and possibly misery for Bobo, a game and trying heavyweight contender, who should feel the same way, and will in time to come.

Forge Bats .351 as Team In Sunset Loop, Lead Fielding

Monopolizing nearly every corner of the record book for the 1942 Sunset Baseball League, the National Forge ball club today was crowned champion at bat, boasting a fat .351 average over the 12-game route.

They also led the league in fielding, committing only 15 errors during the campaign, handling 387 chances.

Below are the team averages and the remainder of individual averages held over from the list which was started on Friday's sport page:

OILERS DIVIDE TWO

Oil City, Aug. 10.—(P)—After spotting Butler four runs in the first inning, Oil City slammed out 12 hits, including four homers, in five innings to swamp the Yankees 12-4 in a Penn State Association game yesterday. Weather halted the contest in the sixth, and the Washington-Johnstown game at Johnstown was postponed for the same reason.

Saturday's results: Washington 11, Oil City 10; Butler 16, Johnstown 12.

Hospital and Forgers Tangle This Evening In 2nd Series Clash

With cooperation from the weatherman the largest baseball crowd of the season is expected to be on hand at Russell Field tonight as the National Forge and State Hospital pick up where they left off last Thursday in their Sunset League championship series, the second game of which makes up this evening's program.

Local fandom, their tongues still wagging with excitement as a result of the Thursday eve thriller, have hiked interest to the fever pitch for this one, and everything points to another fracas fully as interesting as the first series contest.

Bob Baker, signed following the first game by the Hospital upon agreement of the Forge management, probably will go to the mound tonight, and at the same time, either Freddie Gagliardi will return to the hill where he scored an impressive Thursday evening triumph, or Hank Wise, who is back in NFO togs, will be called upon for the starting mound assignment.

Another special note of interest is the fact that Joe Massa, brilliant centerfielder who has been absent from the Hospital roster most of the season, is back again and will be in tonight's lineup.

The Swansons, so say the experts, have their best opportunity for scoring a series triumph tonight and there is local money that says they will do just that.

Whatever the result tonight, the diamond sport and those affiliated with it in this community this season are predicting a new high in interest for tonight's encounter.

Adult admission will be 25 cents, gates open shortly after 5:30 o'clock, and the south gate will be open for the benefit of fans who may wish to drive their car into the park. Game time is 6:15 o'clock.

FORGE RULES CIRCUIT AS CORRY LOSES

Hank Wise, back in Forge togs for the first time in too-long a time, pitched a commendable relief trick at Irvine yesterday as the Forgers racked up a 5-3 triumph over the Keystone Ordinance Works at Geneva, and at the same time took sole command of the Tri-County League when the Meadville Pioneers upset Corry, 4-1, at Meadville.

Wise showed fans he still had the old spark that made him a favorite among the Irvine mound staff in seasons past, and gained credit for yesterday's victory when "Diz" Hines was forced to the side lines with a back ache while the game was tied, 2-2, in the fifth stanza.

"Dusty" Ellman fanned 10 batters and yielded only five hits as the Pioneers handed Corry its second setback, and the win enabled the Pioneers to remove themselves from a basement life with Geneva.

Friday night Bob Baker journeyed to Corry to hurl for the Morrisonmen and pitched them to a 6-2 verdict against the Meadville Pioneers while Corry edged Geneva at Corry, 15-13, in a wild slugfest.

Hambletonian Will Be Run Wednesday

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 10.—(P)—At least a dozen owners and trainers aren't so certain that Colby Hanover, champion two-year-old trotter of 1941, is going to have such an easy time in Wednesday's famed Hambletonian as the short odds indicate and are willing to spend $500 to nominate their own candidates.

The makeup of the field won't be known until Tuesday noon when the last $500 of the entry fee is due for indications are that any where from 10 to 14 trotters will compete in the sports "world series" on Wednesday.

If the field contains 14 that day it will equal the record size of the first race in 1926 and will hike the value of the purse to $40,000.

Fred Egan will be in the favorite's sulky, while Harry Whitney will handle the reins on Cannon Ball, rated by most experts as the favorite's chief rival. Egan triumphed in 1940 with Spencer Scott.

MRS. MURDOCK TAKES A CASE

by George Harmon Coxe

Chapter 40
All Together

HESTOR turned and started for the hall. "I'll get my things," he said. "I'll get my things," he said. "I'll get my things," he said.

"Coming?"

"Certainly not."

Fenner edged up beside Murdock. "Should he?"

"I think so."

"So do I," Fenner moved a little closer to Nason, who backed up a half step. "We've decided you'd better come, too," Fenner said.

He hesitated, smiling a little, his voice neither aggressive nor blustering, but quiet and slow spoken. The threat was all in his eyes and his smile meant nothing.

"I have an appointment," Nason said.

Fenner neither moved nor spoke. Nason met that flinty gaze for some seconds and a flush crept upward from his throat, in the end he looked away and spread his hands, palms up.

"That's fine," said Fenner. "We appreciate it."

"Very well, it's quite preposterous, you know, but—"

"Sure," Fenner said. "We know."

Murdock and Hestor rode with Nason, and Fenner drove his own car, following closely until they came to the traffic light at Kenmore Square. Here he pulled up alongside and stuck his head out of the window.

"Look," he said. "Maybe a drink would help, huh? There's a couple of places down the avenue a ways. Any of 'em a-okay?"

Murdock eyed him disgustedly and nudged Nason. "Go ahead," he said.

When they got out at Ward Allen's place they waited for Fenner. He shook his head at them.

They went up the stairs. It was an old brownstone front which had been remodeled into small, modern apartments, and Ward Allen's quarters were on the second floor. Murdock knocked. When there was no answer he knocked again.

"I hate you for this!"

Murdock turned. Hestor was right beside him, her mouth curved bitterly.

"My, my," said Fenner, and then the door swung open.

Hestor moved her shoulders, put her chin and stepped ahead, Nason following and Murdock and Fenner going in almost together.

Surprise

THE room they entered was large and high-ceilinged and the door opened directly into it. The furniture was comfortable, looking but well worn, masculine in character except for the small couch along one wall. This, while upholstered in some rough fabric, was modeled on the lines of a love seat, and it was here that Della Stewart and Dean Thorndike were sitting. Joyce had a corner chair and Ward Allen was standing in the center of the room.

Hestor stopped in front of him, taking in the others with a quick, moving glance. Nason stayed with her. Murdock and Fenner took two or three steps; then, as though by some pre-arranged signal they both stopped and wheeled about.

Even then it seemed to Murdock that Fenner had acted a fraction of a second before he did, and he wondered if the detective's reaction was swifter than his own or whether he himself had been so tardy in grasping the significance of finding those four people waiting for them. Whatever the reason it was not until the moment that he asked himself who had opened the door and knew that someone else was here.

Don Raeburn was closing the door when Murdock saw him and he had apparently kept well behind it until they were all in. That there had been no warning from the others was explained by the compact little Mauser he held in his right hand.

The tension hit Murdock all of a sudden and he was aware only of Raeburn and that automatic until the door had closed; then he realized that something had happened to Jack Fenner, and looked at him.

The detective was standing beside him, poised and alert. His thin mouth was disdainful and his eyes were cold and sleepy-looking.

"Well," he said. "Surprise, huh?" He spoke to Murdock without looking at him. "This Raeburn?"

"Don't!" Hestor said.

Her cry made Fenner turn. "You'd better sit down," he said. "You, too, Nason."

"You, too, Nason," he said. "You, too, Nason," he said.

Fenner had leaned back against the door, the gun steady in his hand.

"That is good advice. May I suggest that you two gentlemen follow it as well?"

Fenner's topcoat was open. He had his hat in one hand and with the other casually fanned out one side of the coat by putting one fist on his hip.

"Put it down, fellah!" he said.

"Stay where you are!" Raeburn said. "I should not like to shoot with all these people here."

Fenner took a step forward.

"You're not going to shoot," said "Easy, Jack," Murdock said.

Joyce Murdock came forward in her chair. She remembered all those things Kent had told her about Jack Fenner and knew that they were so. His jaw was like a rock and his upward-slanting eyes were thin and mean.

"No, Jack!" she said. "Please."

Fenner moved again. Raeburn called to him, but the detective kept coming, slowly, with short, shuffling steps. He was scarcely six feet away now and Raeburn set his lips. His fingers tightened until he found a hole in it. He put his finger through it and looked back at Raeburn.

"Called me, huh?" he said. "And this coat set me back seventy-five bucks."

"The next hole," said Raeburn, "will be in you."

The Party

MURDOCK broke the spell that gripped him and took Fenner's arm. "Sit down, will you? I want to hear what he's got to say." He turned and went over to Joyce.

She looked up, seeing the graviness and censure in his eyes. "I couldn't help it," she said. "I asked you to keep out of this."

"I know, Kent. But I really was coming here to see Ward and Della, just as I told you on the telephone. But he—she glanced at Raeburn—"was waiting for me. I got in the car."

"There was nothing else she could do," Raeburn said.

Murdock looked at him and then let his eyes touch the others in the room. They all watched Raeburn with varying degrees of uncertainty and alarm; all except Fenner. Murdock sat on the arm of Joyce's chair and waited.

"I've gone through a lot of trouble," Raeburn said, "and much unpleasantness since I left San Baria. I was desperate this morning. I got the idea that I must get Mrs. Murdock out of the way—a stupid idea, I must admit. She convinced me of it although at the time I thought that if I could hide her some place so that she could not identify me I might be able to finish my job."

"What job?" Murdock asked.

"Perry Clarke had some papers. You had them," Murdock said. "You mean that envelope? You got it from Della."

Amendment To Revenue Bill Turned Down

The proposal would have had the effect of preventing a man from dividing his earned income with his wife for tax purposes, thus avoiding the increased rate of a higher bracket.

Eight states have community tax laws—Texas, California, Louisiana, Arizona, New Mexico, Nevada, Idaho and Washington.

The committee decided to close its open hearings on the revenue bill this week, probably on Thursday.

George said it then would take a week's recess, and begin its executive deliberations two weeks from today.

Former Senator T. P. Gore of Oklahoma, who sponsored the principle in 1918 as a member of the finance committee, urged the group this morning to retain the current 27½ per cent depletion allowance on oil and gas wells for taxation purposes.

It would improve one's outlook on tomorrow's greatest industry to watch a model builder painstakingly adjust a model for the best performance of this first and comparatively small competition next Wednesday.

"All cannot win, but that isn't the real importance. The most important thing is that each one should try to learn why his model performs as it does and how to improve it. This is the spirit that will make aviation the greatest field of opportunity ever afforded."

Model Plane Competition Wednesday

The first annual playground model aircraft contest in Warren, to be held Wednesday, August 12, may be the beginning of competition in the field of aviation for several boys who will later graduate to larger contests to national competition with the future builders of tomorrow's tremendous field of opportunity in aviation, it was stated today by Don Conway, one of the community's leading model builders.

"It is an established fact that the mighty air forces of Britain, Russia and Germany were founded upon a love of aviation created by government-sponsored model projects," he said. "The U. S. government paid little attention to the million and a half boys and girls learning about aviation by models until the serious condition of our large air corps training plan showed that more than 80 percent of today's pilots were at one time model builders."

"The model airplane today is only considered a 'toy' by those who are not familiar with scientific research conducted through models in the hope of a more efficient, safer real airplane of the future."

"It would improve one's outlook on tomorrow's greatest industry to watch a model builder painstakingly adjust a model for the best performance of this first and comparatively small competition next Wednesday."

"All cannot win, but that isn't the real importance. The most important thing is that each one should try to learn why his model performs as it does and how to improve it. This is the spirit that will make aviation the greatest field of opportunity ever afforded."

Plan Formation of Volunteer Forest Fire Group In County

In Warren and Forest counties the Office of Civilian Defense is cooperating with the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters and the U. S. Forest Service in organizing the new Forest Fire Fighters Service. The following plans have been made for forming this Service and training its members.

Warren county has been divided into twenty-one sectors. These sectors are, for the most part, the townships of the county. However, in a few cases some deviation from this division was made to facilitate simpler organization. Each sector will be in charge of a chief forest fire fighter who, in turn, will have several assistants to help in the organization and operation of the individual sectors. These men, soon to be named, will be selected mainly from the Department of Forests and Waters' present forest fire wardens and their leading crew members, as their qualifications and experience fit them for this work. However, it is not a prime requisite for these leaders to be a part of the present warden system, as this is a community proposition and everyone will eventually be asked to take part. All of these leaders, however, must meet the qualifications required by the Office of Civilian Defense.

Forest county has been divided into seven sectors. Each sector is a township, and the organization will be the same as in Warren county.

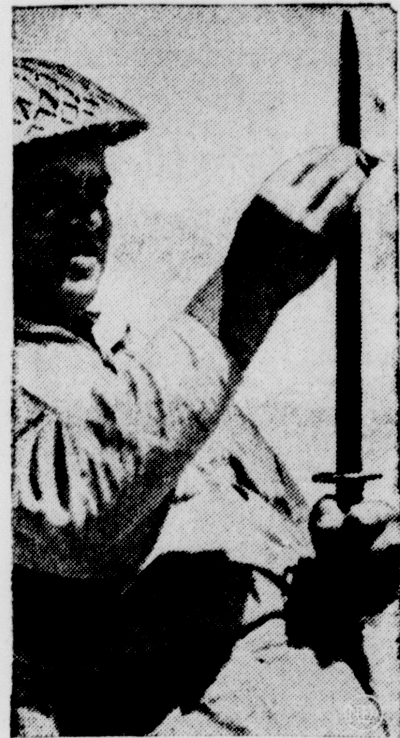

After the chief forest fire fighters and their assistants have been named, arrangements will be made to give them a short, but intensive training course in organizing and operating the new Forest Fire Fighters Service. After the men receive this training, they will, in turn, arrange to have training schools in their respective sectors. These schools will last 12 hours—3 hours a night, once a week for 4 weeks. They will be open to the public, and it is hoped that every person in the counties in which they will be held will take part, if able. This includes both men and women. From these individual training schools, qualified persons who pass the prescribed training course will be enrolled in the Forest Fire Fighters Service and will receive arm bands which will designate them as members of this service. Other awards of recognition will also be given to all who participate in the activities of this new Civilian Defense Service.

This new service will be used in forest fire extinction only when an emergency actually exists. The present warden system in the State Department of Forests and Waters will handle all normal forest fires, as it has in the past. However, when an emergency occurs the new Forest Fire Fighters Service will go into action. Prior to the occurrence of such an emergency, close cooperation between the two organizations will be established. During an emergency, the new Forest Fire Fighters Service will act strictly as a volunteer unit without pay, according to present plans.

It is hoped that everyone in the area of Warren and Forest counties will go "all out" to support the organization of this service and that through its efforts forest fires will be wiped out as a threat to the timber resources in these counties. It rests with the people of Warren and Forest counties whether or not they permit a "Pearl Harbor Incident" to occur in this community.

Lowrey. The hearing will be held at the court house here at 3 p. m. Seven other persons have recovered from injuries received in the accident which occurred on route 77, a mile west of Garland.

Improved Air Mail Service Planned Here

With the inauguration of an additional round-trip schedule on the Pittsburgh-Jamestown route of All American Aviation, Inc., effective one week from today, local air mail and air express service is expected to be materially improved. At present the schedule calls for two air mail and express pick-ups and deliveries daily.

According to the announcement, the rapid increase in traffic over this particular route has resulted in the decision to improve the present service by furnishing an additional morning trunk-line connection at Pittsburgh through the start of a new schedule which provides for two morning and two evening pick-ups and deliveries.

Under the new schedule, effective August 17, the light flight times will be at 8:10 a. m. and 12:47 p. m., northbound, and at 9:03 a. m. and 5:35 p. m., southbound to Pittsburgh. Mail dispatched on the morning southbound flight will reach such points as Buffalo, Chicago, Cleveland, Dayton, Boston, Indianapolis, New York, Philadelphia and Washington, to name only a few, the same afternoon.

These schedules have been arranged to allow mail dispatched on the morning flight to be delivered in Pittsburgh on the regular afternoon carrier delivery while local incoming mail, arriving on the two northbound flights, will be delivered on the local afternoon delivery. This does not, of course, pertain to special delivery air mail nor air express, which are delivered immediately upon arriving. The afternoon southbound pickup flight will continue to furnish overnight service to all parts of the country.

At the post office here it was pointed out that mail dispatched from Warren on the morning flight to Pittsburgh would arrive in the

It would arrive in Los Angeles at 12:25 a. m. the next day, just slightly more than 15 hours after leaving Warren.

It was pointed out that air mail must be at the post office here at least 45 minutes before the leaving time of the air mail plane at the airport.

According to All American Aviation officials, communities served by the Pittsburgh-Jamestown air pick-up route have shown increases of as much as 200 to 300 percent in air mail and air express volume during the past year. Now with the greatly improved service to be offered by the new flight schedules, the traffic over this route is expected to show even greater increases during the coming months.
